

Wireframe da página de login

The wireframe illustrates a login page layout within a browser window. The browser's address bar is at the top, followed by a large, light-gray content area. Centered in this area is a white rectangular box with rounded corners, representing the login form. Inside this box, the elements are arranged vertically: a placeholder for a logo (a square with an 'X' and the text 'Logo'), the label 'Área de login', a text input field labeled 'Campo para usuário', another text input field labeled 'Campo da senha', and a rounded rectangular button labeled 'Botão de login'.
